1. Artificial Intelligence and local governance

In person session - Florence

This session will explore how artificial intelligence can be used to streamline bureaucracy and improve the efficiency of local government operations. It will also examine the impact of AI on citizens' daily lives, in terms of access to services, participation, and trust in institutions. Particular attention will be given to European policies and to the strategies adopted by European cities—such as smart city models and smart specialisation approaches—as frameworks for integrating AI in a way that promotes innovation, inclusiveness, and sustainability at the local level.
