Antonio Tamburro
Cities in motion

Sesto Senso Art Gallery is pleased to open Antonio Tamburro's exhibition "Cities in Motion" on Saturday, January 2, 2021. Admission will be limited in accordance with COVID-19 safety guidelines. The works on display by Antonio Tamburro, an internationally renowned contemporary artist, primarily explore the themes of contemporary cities and metropolises, depicted by the artist in his distinctive painterly style, where speed, dynamism, and color coexist harmoniously. Also on display are paintings whose subjects range from café interiors populated primarily by female figures to crowds of colorful umbrellas emerging from the gray of rainy days. Finally, there is the theme of jazz music, very dear to Tamburro, which he manages to depict in a sublime manner through his paintings full of energy and color. Antonio Tamburro's art is characterized by four distinctive elements: line, energy, color, and movement. Their combination gives rise to a style in which figurative tradition and technical mastery serve an art form projected into the future, with color expanding dynamically across the canvas to reflect the frenetic rhythms of the modern era.
It is no coincidence that metropolitan themes predominate, such as the anonymous crowds of big cities, the frantic flow of speeding cars, and the landscape's overload of advertising imagery. Yet one senses an absence, just as in the works that depict the solitary poses of female figures captured in their domestic intimacy or in secluded urban settings. Strong, vivid colors emerge against the prevailing background of gray and blue tones. He captures the beauty and vitality of these contemporary scenes, immortalizing them with alluring perspective compositions. There is a celebration of life that shines through his great passion for painting, evident throughout his entire work.

The exhibition will be run until 2nd January, 2021
